Pennsylvanians Back Eisenhower Move to Amend

RULES CHANGE SUPPORTED BY 7 DELEGATES

Chicago (AP) — Pennsylvania's official delegation, in the first direct test of sentiment, voted to amend the rules of the Republican convention on delegate credentials.

Only 11 delegates lined up in support of the amendment.

The vote of a tense 90 minutes was even more one-sided than had been predicted by Gov. Wm. E. Fine who personally led the fight to get the amendment on the agenda.

Two other members of the 70-delegate delegation announced they were passing, for the present, the opportunity to express their views.

National Committeeman G. M. Owlett, who sat through the committee's hearings in six consecutive sessions last week, added with the Pennsylvania delegation a showdown vote until they have an opportunity to hear the amendment debated before the convention.

On the roll call at the caucus the vote was the first to announce it will vote against changing the convention rules.

Every one of the 11 delegates who voted against changing the rules has been regarded as a supporter of Sen. Robert A. Taft.

The 57 who voted in support of the amendment led by Gov. Fine included eight of the 10 delegates large, all of the announced Eisenhower supporters and top officials of the state administration are regarded as being close to Gov. Fine when it comes to a decision.

McConnell To Be City Manager of Council Bluffs

L. M. McConnell

RESIGNS HERE EFFECTIVE AS OF JULY 31ST

L. M. McConnell, Borough Manager in Warren since April of 1950, today submitted his resignation to Council President William E. Rice, and will become city manager at Council Bluffs, Iowa, early in August.

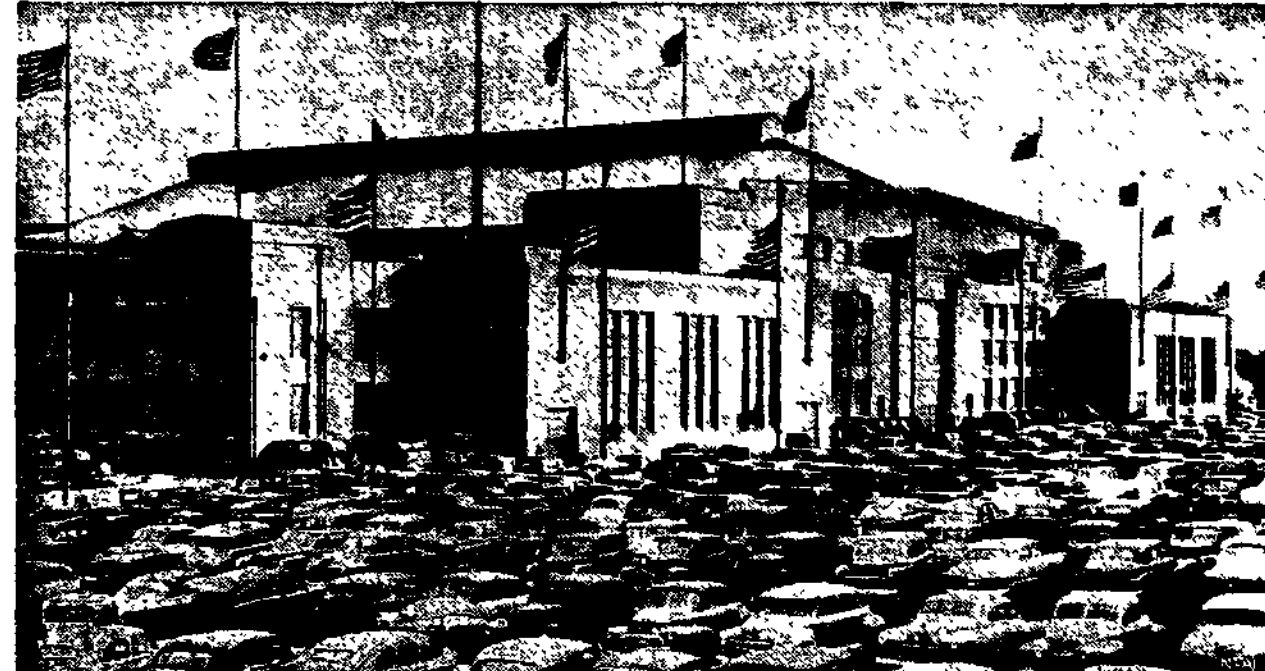

With Mr. McConnell's resignation effective as of July 31, Mr. Rice immediately called an executive session of Borough Council for 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, but did not anticipate that any definite action would be taken at that time toward securing a successor to Mr. McConnell.

Mr. McConnell came to Warren as its first borough manager after five years' similar service in Ketchikan, Alaska. He has an excellent record of accomplishment here and has won the respect of the entire community.

"We couldn't hope to keep him here," said Mr. Rice today as he regretfully announced receipt of the resignation and estimated that Mr. McConnell's salary will be almost doubled in Council Bluffs, a city of almost 50,000. He receives $6,000 in Warren as borough manager plus $1,200 as borough secretary.

"I have seen an improvement here in an already beautiful city," said Mr. McConnell this afternoon, "and am pleased to have had a small part in this." In his letter of resignation, Mr. McConnell said that while Council Bluffs slogan is "The Friendly City," it can never surpass Warren in that regard.

ARENA FOR POLITICAL GLADIATORS—Here in Chicago's International Amphitheater, both the Republican and Democratic Parties will choose their presidential candidate. Delegates will conduct their business in relative comfort as the conventions will be held in air-cooled comfort for the first time. The interior of the hall will become a familiar sight to some 60 million persons expected to witness the proceedings on their television screens.

DIJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS WRECKED

Washington (AP) — The 82nd Congress, its adjournment plans wrecked Saturday by a deadlock over two money bills, met again today.

However, it will mainly mark the end of the session, when about two members return to clean up a few jobs still to be done.

The dash toward a planned final adjournment stalled to a stop as a session peaked over the horizon yesterday morning. All except two appropriation bills had been passed but on these the Senate and House deadlocked.

SK ENFORCEMENT OF CLEAN STREAMS LAW

Harrisburg (AP) — Officials of a Pennsylvania Federation of Troutmen's Clubs today planned a conference with Attorney General Robert E. Woodside over enforcement of the state's clean streams law.

Leslie W. Secoy, of Point Mar, said the session is "intended to iron out some misunderstanding which have recently arisen over the enforcement" of the act.

The date was set for the meeting. Secoy is a delegate to this year's Republican convention in Chicago.

Tokyo (AP) — The massive Dai Nippon building, general headquarters of the Far East command, was returned to the Japanese today.

Sound Clock Patrol Rings 45 Arrests Over Busy Weekend

Sgt. Donald Holmes, commanding officer of the local Pennsylvania State Police, said this morning that the 24-hour patrol in Warren county, effective from yesterday morning until this morning, had resulted in 45 arrests for traffic violations during the four-day period.

Most of the arrests were made for driving too fast for conditions, he said, although four drivers were found who had no operator's licenses.

Officers were called out at three o'clock Saturday morning when a car operated by Richard Luce of Arbor Creek, and Peter Ciprich, Ridgway, collided east of town at the intersection of Routes 6 and 10.

No one was injured and damage was estimated at $250 to each car. The accident occurred when the car was driving west, and Luce attempted to pass the Ridgway car, striking its rear.

NEXT STEP IN STEEL STRIKE IS UP TO CIO

Pittsburgh (AP) — The nation looked to CIO United Steel workers President Philip Murray today for some tipoff on the union's next move in the economy-shattering steel strike now going into its sixth week.

The delivery-halted labor leader invades the territory of his most bitter opponent in the steel dispute to address a huge rally of steelworkers at nearby Duquesne.

Most of the 6,000 steelworkers residents of that small milltown are employed by U. S. Steel Corp., biggest producer in the country and traditional pace-setter for the industry.

The rally is the first in the Pittsburgh area—steel center of the world—since Murray called out 650,000 union members in the basic steel industry June 2.

Steelworkers look for their leader to explain at length the union's charges that the six largest steel producers have refused to bargain in good faith.

The charge is seen as an attempt to bring about resumption of bargaining, which collapsed June 8. It probably will take about a week for the National Labor Relations Board to investigate the union's complaint. No negotiations are in sight.

Crux of the drawn-out controversy is the USW's demand for a union shop, which requires membership in the union as a condition of employment.

CORTINES LEADS IN MEXICAN ELECTION

Mexico City (AP) — A firm friend of the United States took an early and expected lead today in fragmentary returns from Mexico's biggest and most peaceful presidential elections.

The first returns, however, represented less than one per cent of the 3,500,000 or more votes cast in yesterday's general election.

The record turned out exceeded all expectations and was far above the 2,229,000 who voted in 1946.

The official count begins next Sunday.

Early unofficial reports put Adolfo Cortines, candidate of the government-backed Party of Revolutionary Institutions (PRI), ahead with 24,229 votes.

LARGE PITTSBURGH WAREHOUSE BURNS

Pittsburgh (AP) — A spectacular $60,000 fire destroyed a warehouse in the West End yesterday and routed at least 18 persons from an adjoining apartment house.

The warehouse, stocked with building equipment and materials, was owned by the Henry Busse Construction Co. Six families fled the three-story brick apartment house as flames fought the blaze for nearly four hours. Two persons suffered slight injuries. Origin of the blaze was not determined.

WEYLAND PROMOTED TO FULL GENERAL

Tokyo (AP) — Otto P. Weyland, commander of the Far East Air Forces, officially became a full general today when Gen. Mark W. Clark pinned his own four stars on Weyland's collar.

AID FOR DENMARK WILL BE CONTINUED

Washington (AP) — Informal officials indicated today the United States would not cut off military and economic aid to Denmark despite reports that the Danes have turned over to Russia a 13,000-ton tanker.

But Sen. O'Connor (D-Md.) said he is urging the State Department to tell the Danes "in no uncertain terms" that they cannot supply their enemies with products to be used against us and at the same time expect to be the beneficiary of United States aid.

Representatives of 11 agencies are to meet shortly to advise President Truman as to whether or not he should order a halt to assistance to Denmark.

VERONA FISHERMAN SAVED BY FRIEND

Oil City (AP) — R. D. McGary of Verona is alive today because of the quick work of a fellow fisherman who pulled him from the Allegheny River at nearby Reno.

Robert J. Farrow of Pittsburgh and McGary were fishing in shallow water yesterday when Farrow noticed his companion floating face down. He swam to McGary's side, pulled him ashore and applied artificial respiration. Firemen said Farrow's action saved his companion's life. McGary apparently had lost his footing.

ACHESON CONTINUES HIS TOUR OF BRAZIL

No Serious Mishaps As Warren Traffic Hits Highest Peak

Although traffic during peak periods was handled in an admirable manner by city police during the weekend, five accidents in which two persons were injured and one motorist arrested were noted in the records.

Hospitalized as the result of a car-truck collision in the 600 block of Pennsylvania avenue, east, shortly after midnight Saturday were Mrs. Lorena See, 116 Grant street, and Mrs. Anna C. Arnold, 14 Madison avenue, both elderly ladies. Neither was seriously hurt, and their condition is listed as good at Warren General Hospital this morning.

Mrs. See suffered a chest injury, and Mrs. Arnold abrasions of both knees and a neck injury.

The accident occurred, according to the police report, when the car in which they were riding, owned and operated by Mrs. See, struck a parked truck while going north on Pennsylvania avenue near Nick's Restaurant. Damage to the car was estimated at $75, with none to the truck.

Early Friday morning, police were called to Pennsylvania and Water street where cars operated by Steve Haynos, of Beading, Allegheny county, and Myra Todd Brown, 417 Water street, collided head on. No one was injured, and damage was estimated at about $250 to each vehicle. Haynos was arrested on a charge of driving too fast for conditions.

Haynos told police he was going east on Pennsylvania, and on the curve at Water street intersection went into a skid on the wet pavement, striking the Brown car.

Also on Friday, at 12:10 a. m., a minor accident was reported at Pennsylvania and Union with the drivers settling their own affairs. No report was filed. At 1:35 p. m. on Friday, about $75 damage occurred in a minor collision on Pennsylvania avenue, east, near the Warren City Liens garage. Again at 4:12 p. m. Friday, cars collided at Pennsylvania and Wetmore with about $100 damage listed. No one was injured in any of the three accidents.

Saturday evening, employees of the East Side Fruit Company charged an individual with taking a basket of tomatoes from their warehouse. When questioned by police, the man pleaded a case of mistaken identity and offered an alibi as to his whereabouts at the time of the alleged theft. Police are still investigating.

Early yesterday morning, city police were requested by state police from Kane to watch for a car with Michigan plates, headed (Turn to Page Seven)

HOLIDAY WEEK-END DEATH TOLL IS 600

By The Associated Press
More than 800 Americans died violent deaths over the three-day Independence Day weekend.

The toll was far from a record for a holiday weekend.

Traffic accidents took 346 lives—far short of the 430 the National Safety Council had predicted and 17 less than the number who died on the highways during a similar 78-hour Memorial Day period.

But 185 drownings between 6 p. m. local time Thursday and midnight Sunday helped boost the total well beyond the Memorial Day figure of 510. There were 85 such deaths during the holiday weekend five weeks ago.

Deaths from miscellaneous accidents amounted to 69 in the weekend just past.

CANOEIST IS SHOT BY RUSSIAN GUARD

Berlin (AP) — A West Berlin couple canoeing on Havel Lake accidentally crossed the Russian zone border yesterday and drew the gunfire of Eastern Communist police.

The man was shot in the hip while swinging the canoe around to race for safety in the West. He was taken to a hospital. The woman was not hurt.

"Y" POOL CLOSED

The construction of glass block windows in the YMCA swimming pool started today, according to Dan K. Walton, general secretary, and as a result swim classes will not be held throughout this week.

THREE TO LEAVE FOR ACTUAL INDUCTION

Melvin G. Keller, Selective Service chairman for Warren county, announced today that the Board has received a call for three Warren county young men to leave on July 22 for Harrisburg and actual induction into the Armed Forces.

The names of the three will be announced soon.

Mr. Keller said the Board had received no call for young men to take pre-induction examinations during July.

Pedestrian Is Killed Near Sugar Grove, Inquest on Friday

Joe Prudich, aged 50, resident of the Corry area, was almost instantly killed when struck by an automobile operated by Paul Green, aged 19, of Falconer, N. Y., while he was walking along the highway about two miles south of Sugar Grove, at what is known as Dennigan Hill, Saturday night about 10:15 o'clock.

Four young people riding in the car with Green were questioned at length by the officials, and will be asked to appear at an inquest Friday night. They are: Arlene Seelings, 15, 847 Prendergast avenue, Jamestown; Roy Cornell, 18, 27 Scott street, Jamestown; Clyde Keppeler, 19, and Clarence Keppeler, 16, 701 West Eighth street, Jamestown, and Veta Crippen, 16, of Youngsville.

Green was detained by Sheriff L. E. Linder and Pvt. J. R. Kruepy, of the state police, who joined the coroner's office and District Attorney M. A. Kornreich, in the investigation. He was released this morning on his own recognizance pending the outcome of the inquest.

Sunday, Coroner Ed Lowrey empaneled a jury at Sugar Grove and called an inquest for Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Schooner Funeral Home at that place.

The body was later released to the Bracken and Keating Funeral Home in Corry. Services will be held Wednesday morning at nine o'clock in St. Thomas church at Corry, and burial will be in the church cemetery. It is understood that he has a mother, sister and two brothers in Yugoslavia where he was born in 1903. A cousin, John Svet, Corry, is in charge of arrangements.

A companion of the victim, Louis Kordish, 61, is understood to have stated that the two men were walking along the berm of the road at the time that Prudich was struck.

Visits Brother Here

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kottcamp left today for their home in Waukegan, Ill., after spending a few days with Mr. Kottcamp's brother, A. F. Kottcamp and wife, 18 Russell street. Mr. John Kottcamp is a retired vice president of the Johns-Manville Corporation.

Guides Traffic at Bears' Den, Wins Himself $10 Fine in Court

The famous Bull Hill Bears were "at home" on July 4th to their many inquisitive admirers and had their own traffic officer to boot. The hairy old couple and their augmented family of six cubs came out best in the deal, receiving many delectable morsels from picnic packets while the self-styled traffic officer paid a fine of $10 and costs for his day's work.

While on holiday routine patrol, Sgt. Donald Holmes and Pvt. James Smith stopped in Sheffield, Bull Hill, where the bears frequent a garbage dump and are visited each week by hundreds of sightseers.

Arriving at Bull Hill, the State Police found Henry Thornton of Brookston, imbued with a desire to himself become a guardian of the peace, engaged in directing traffic at the dump.

Thornton had a fully loaded pistol strapped on, and was in some type of uniform. When questioned by state police, he told them he had been hired by Sheffield township for the traffic job. Officers took the story with a grain of salt, disarmed Thornton and took him before Justice of the Peace Paul Leiby of Rogertown, where he was charged with disorderly conduct. Thornton paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Two Companies Tie in Parade Contest

Armstrong Hose No. 1, of Johnsonburg, and Hose Company No. 1, Dunkirk, N. Y., were judged so closely in the parade competition Friday, that it was decided to split the prize money, each receiving $92.50, with scores of 90.8 each.

The other companies finished in the following order: Northeast V. F. W., 85.9, for $75; White Indians, Salamanca, V. F. W., 85.52 for $50; Central Hose Co., Johnsonburg, 81.32, for $25; Olean V. F. W., Jamestown Moose, Erie Elks Girls, Dunkirk Hose Co. No. 3, and the E. P. O. Elkadettes, Titusville.

WILL NOT 'DIG UP DIRT' SAYS THE GENERAL

Chicago (AP) — General Dwight D. Eisenhower said today he would hit hard at Democratic "errors" if he is the Republican presidential nominee, but would not "scrape up dirt" just for the sake of doing it.

Eisenhower made the statement to the Florida delegation to the Republican National Convention as he launched an all-or-nothing offensive to win top place on the GOP ticket.

By night fall, he may have a pretty good idea whether he is going to be the nominee or just a retired general.

Eisenhower had an early breakfast with the 18-man Florida delegation, which is largely in the column of his chief rival for the nomination, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Eisenhower went to the Florida breakfast to a conference at his headquarters with Gov. Earl Warren of California. That session with the Californian, also a candidate for the nomination, was regarded as significant.

Warren told newsmen afterward that he and Eisenhower were in agreement that the convention rules should be changed to prevent contested delegations, from voting on the seating of delegates in any state where there is a contest.

Warren called the meeting mainly a social visit but added there was a general discussion of politics.

POLISH FALCONS IN ANNUAL ELECTION

New Britain, Conn. (AP) — The new president of the Polish Falcons of America is Walter J. Laska of Pittsburgh. He was named yesterday at the annual convention here to succeed Dr. T. A. Starzowski who died recently after holding the post 40 years.

Other officers named included Mrs. Mary Kowalska of Pittsburgh and Joseph Grabinski of New Kensington, Pa., vice-presidents.

JAP CAMPAIGN IN CHINA 15 YRS. AGO

Tokyo (AP) — Today is the fifteenth anniversary of the North China incident which touched off Japan's campaign in China. The anniversary passed almost unnoticed here. No major newspaper mentioned it.

On July 7, 1937, Japanese and Chinese troops clashed near the Marco Polo Bridge outside Peking in the first battle of the Sino-Japanese War.

Entries Sought For Circus Wagon Contest

James Deigan, chairman of the Jaycees Circus Wagon committee, reported today that seven entries have been made in the contest to date, but he is anxious that any more entries be turned in as soon as possible.

The judging date for the circus wagons has been set for Tuesday, July 15, and Mr. Deigan is hopeful of arranging a display before that time. A miniature circus wagon is on display in Metzger Wrights at the present time and may be useful for ideas to someone planning a project.

ALLIED TANKS THROWN BACK BY RED FORCE

Seoul, Korea (AP) — A large Allied raiding party, supported by tanks and flame throwers, was beaten back early today by Chinese entrenched in log pillboxes two miles east of the Panmunjom truce talks site.

Associated Press Correspondent Sam Summerlin at the Western Front reported the U. N. infantrymen jumped off against three Red outposts at 10 p. m. under a brilliant moonlit sky.

Summerlin said the raiders were pinned down by Communist mortar shells and grenades at the first outpost.

On the flanks of the attack, flame-throwing tanks and infantry hit Red positions to prevent Communist reinforcements from moving up.

A few hours after midnight, Allied reinforcements rushed in and helped the embattled doughboys withdraw.

At dawn Allied warplanes pounded the Red outposts while the tired infantrymen and tankers fell back.

Munsan, Korea (AP) — United Nations and Communist armistice negotiators held their fourth consecutive secret meeting today. A U. N. spokesman said proceedings were on a "businesslike basis."

ADVERSE REPORT ON ALLEGHENY PROJECT

Pittsburgh (AP) — Prospects for opening the upper Allegheny River to navigation appeared slim today following an adverse report by Army engineers that the project would be too costly.

For years civic leaders in the area have been interested in a proposal to improve the river's channel from East Brady, Pa., to Olean, N. Y. The Allegheny now is navigable from Pittsburgh to East Brady.

A report prepared by district and division army engineers in New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania also rejected a plan to improve the Allegheny and Genesee Rivers to provide a through waterway for barges.

CROSSING RECORD IS SET BY NEW LINER

By WILL GRIMSLEY
ABOARD THE SS UNITED STATES (AP) — The sleek new super-liner United States completed her maiden Atlantic crossing today in a record three days, 10 hours and 40 minutes, copping the transatlantic speed ribbon for America for the first time in 83 years.

The time was 10 hours and two minutes faster than the old record set 14 years ago by the British Cunard liner Queen Mary.

BULLETIN

Chicago (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft told a news conference today he will fight a proposed rule change sought by Eisenhower forces in the Republican National Convention. He said he wouldn't try to defer the issue.

Pennsy Employees Facing 50% Lay-off Because of Strike

* At least half of all employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company on the local division have been or are about to be laid off indefinitely, according to Warren officials.

Cause of the work cessation was given as the steel strike, principally, and other strikes as a contributory factor.

All departments are affected, including office, personnel, operating and maintenance crews, and section hands.

Several received their notices as of Thursday evening, July 3, and others are to be laid off today, according to O. W. Kinney, Warren agent for the company.

Many Awards Are Presented Boys At Warren YM Camp

That all good things must come to an end was the atmosphere spread over the 70 some Warren YMCA campers when they gathered together in their last evening at Camp Sherwin on Lake Erie to receive awards for their achievement at this year's 10-day session.

The awards were first presented in the various fields by individual instructors, and then the program was climaxed with the long waited for presentation of the "C. M. Hengst" Honor Camper Award, which this year was given Henry Lanman by Camp Director Murray Cameron.

Preceding this presentation Allen Anderson, assistant director, handed out the Honor Camper Awards to boys in their own cabins. They were: Older Boys—Lee Thompson and John Berdine; Juniors—Jerry Angove, Bery Kornreich, and Dennis Morrell; Cadets—James Watt, Bill Angove, Jeff Branch and John Unger. Kenneth Morrison, senior counselor and riflery instructor, presented the riflery awards to boys who shot qualifying NRA targets. He was assisted in this program by Bobby Stevens.

Each camper received an archery certificate with the following top three winners in each division: Older Boys—Chuck McDowell, John Berdine and Henry Lanman; Juniors—Bery Kornreich, Richard Lowe and Mike Duesing; and Cadets—Grant Green, Phillip Jewell and Jeff Branch and David Barone tied for third. Bob Israel coached this field.

Awards for the first, second and third place winners in the Tuesday tournaments run off by Harry Tourtellott with the help of Gordon Gillette, new "Y" secretary here, were also given out, as well as the camper-counselor award to Glenn Rapp.

For tests passed by campers during their stay, the following swimming awards were presented by Bill Mulvey, waterfront director: non-swimmers to beginners—Terry Bjers, Jeff Branch, Frank Comes, Dave Frantz, Jim Jenkins, Dick Kalfas, Jeff Peterson, Ronald Quicksall, Bill Sedwick, Ned Smith, John Unger, Denny Wright and Larry Whitten; beginners to minnow—Dick Fowler, Grant Greene, Phillip Jewell, Larry Moyer, Ronald Nuhfer, Denny Peterson and Ed Sharp.

Minnows to fish—Doug Arnold, Ralph Caldin, Ned Caldwell, Tom Casey, Mike Duesing, Bill Germonito, Evan Lanman, John Mead, John Marymont, Teddy Tourtellott, Jim Watt; fish to flying fish—Bill Angove, Otis Brown, Fran Gerrett, Jim Hagan, and Bob Swanson; flying fish to shark—Jerry Angove, Tom Bjers, Larry Boardman, Jim Miller, Gale Rapp, Bruce Riggie, Bruce Trevenen, Tom Watt and Dick Wilson.

HER HIGHNESS Sabra Nichols and her Court were among the outstanding attractions in the hour, and a half long parade which led off two days of stellar events to highlight the most successful Fourth of July celebration the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce has sponsored for the community.

FIRST PLACE winner in the Fraternal Float classification in Friday's Parade went to Farrah Grotto for the most beautiful. The float, as seen in the picture, was a harem scene with girls flanked by attendants.

Celebration Notes

Tonight! Six o'clock! War Memorial Field! Jaycees work detail! Every member turn out!

Veteran celebration workers are agreed that the crowd which witnessed the parade Friday morning was the largest ever to assemble in Warren.

What the fireworks lacked Friday night were more than made up for Saturday evening, as was evidenced by the manner in which they were enjoyed by the vast throng.

One of the nicest and most enjoyable parties the Jaycees ever sponsored occurred at the Legion Home Thursday evening when the celebration workers entertained their ladies with about 100 in attendance.

And the committee breakfast at the Blue and White restaurant Friday morning set a record for attendance, it being estimated there were about fifty in attendance.

Friday was scorching hot at Memorial Field and many of the performers and celebration officials are nursing burns about their faces and arms.

The men on the old-fashioned high-wheeled bicycles were father and son . . . Mike Zurkan and boy, from Sugar Grove. They were a surprise entry and made a big hit along the line of march.

The marshal and his chief of staff started out from Union street both wearing white beards, but they were glad to take them off by the time they arrived at Trinity church and . . . too hot.

The Weatherman never before cooperated in more perfect manner.

Surprising how many of the Jaycees were out at War Memorial Field for the early morning barrage at six o'clock Friday morning, with Pete Massa, as usual, in the role of master of ceremonies.

Firemen's Hose Company No. 3 was a surprise entry, which was greeted with pleasure by the committee.

Many former residents were observed in the crowds that turned out to the various events, and all of them were high in their praise of the fine work of the Jaycees.

From Union street over Pennsylvania avenue and up Conewango to Third, the streets were lined with a solid mass of elated spectators.

There were some delays and open spaces between divisions, a situation that is almost impossible to avert, but no person seemed to mind it too much.

The committee in charge of the serving at Beaty Field did an excellent job and received high praise, especially from the visiting musicians and marchers.

Warren's valiant little group of Marines, members of the Joseph H. Pendleton Detachment of the Marine Corps League, received fine applause all along the line as they stepped along in their brand new gabardine uniforms. The boys started accumulating a fund for this attire 'way back last December, and they looked fine. Alongside them walked TSgt. Ray Turk, the recruiter in Jamestown, in dress blues, then came a car bearing General Pendleton's daughter, Mrs. Helen Pendleton Rockwell of Warren, accompanied by two World War I Marines, Henry Blick and T. H. Milenius, the car driven by Frank Bruzzi of Coudersport.

Following this came the Junior Marine Drill Team of Titusville, and these youngsters later put on a commendable demonstration at War Memorial Field. The other two Marines in dress blues who saw 'round town were Frank Gruttaria, inspection judge for the drum and bugle corps units, and his aide, Bob Gorsuch.

There were many favorable comments regarding the manner in which the soft drink and ice cream concession was conducted at War Memorial Field. The guests said they were not constantly bothered by hawkers, but the refreshments were there when wanted. Eddie Highhouse and his efficient crew, including that very active mother-in-law of his, did a good job.

Eddie and Sis Highhouse, in charge of the concession stand at War Memorial Field did the biggest business ever, selling ice cream and pop amounting to a total of $1,561. The proceeds will be split with the Jaycees.

The Rochester Grey Knights won the first prize of $800 among the Class A drum corps. Wormleysburg VFW won the $500 second prize; Hershey's Chocolaters were third, and Dunkirk, New York finished fourth.

It is conservatively estimated that between 9,000 and 10,000 people watched the thrilling drum corps competition and drills at War Memorial Field on the afternoon of the Fourth. Police estimate at least 40,000 people watched the parade.

Bell is in the TV Picture

As we in Pennsylvania join the citizens of many other states this week to watch the Republican Convention in Chicago—and, week after next, to watch the Democratic Convention—we'll see and hear more than political history in the making. We'll also be eyewitnesses to the first coast-to-coast TV broadcast of its kind.

We should be more than interested to remember, too, that the televising of political conventions was, itself, one more of Pennsylvania's many "firsts." In 1940, the Republican Convention was televised from Philadelphia to New York over a single 76-mile TV channel.

Today, from coast-to-coast, there are about 29,500 miles of radio-relay and coaxial cable channels in the Bell System's Television Network. In Pennsylvania alone there are 13 radio-relay towers like those that span the nation every 30 miles or so... and it's these towers, like sentinels on hilltops, that are bringing the two Conventions to you. Each tower picks up microwaves, amplifies them, and beams them to the tower ahead... and on these microwaves ride coast-to-coast TV, as well as hundreds of Long Distance telephone calls.

Several Bankers In Area Are Named To Ass'n Committees

Announcement has been made of the appointment of several local bankers who will serve on various committees and divisions during the 1952-53 fiscal year for the Pennsylvania Bankers Association. The appointments were made by PBA President George C. Rutledge, of Johnstown, and Division General Chairman Paul C. Wagner, of Philadelphia, effective as of July 1.

To serve in the Trust Division are Raymond W. Steber, vice-president and trust officer of the Warren Bank and Trust Company, and Glenn E. Stone, trust officer of Warren National Bank. Mr. Steber will serve on the costs and charges committee, and Mr. Stone on the committee on law of decedents estates and trusts.

Others named to serve include Paul E. Harrington, cashier of Warren Bank and Trust Company, installment loans committee; and A. L. Rasmussen, president of Warren National Bank, finance committee.

Mr. Rutledge also announced that the Pennsylvania Bankers Association will hold its first summer school at Penn State August 24 to 29 in cooperation with the Department of Economics and Commerce and the School of Agriculture. Director of the school will be T. Allen Glenn, Jr., president of the Peoples National Bank, of Norristown.

TWO SUDDEN DEATHS AT STATE HOSPITAL

Michael Shurmy, Warren State Hospital patient for several years, was found dead on the stairway leading to the second floor at Farm Colony Saturday, and Coroner Ed Lowrey who investigated stated that he took his own life by strangulation.

When found by Charles Gadsby, an attendant, there was a noose around his neck formed from the hem of a sheet, and he had been dead but a short time. He had no near relatives.

Rose Baer, 69, another patient at the institution died unexpectedly Sunday morning from a heart ailment.

Strange Passage

Chapter 17

PAUL stepped back and broke into a peal of forced laughter. "What is there about us to make you afraid? We're married, aren't we?"

"Yes—we're married. I suppose I should be extremely happy. Perhaps I am. Perhaps I'm so happy that I'm a little scared about it not being real. Everything happened—so quickly. I mean, my coming down to town—taking the apartment—meeting you—marrying you—coming up here."

She stopped short. "We don't know very much about each other, after all. Do we?"

"Enough, I imagine."

"What do you mean?"

"Enough to start married life. Maybe half the fun of marriage is finding out the little interesting things about the other person. I should think that marriage would be inordinately dull if there were no undiscovered personal secrets."

He broke off short. Then: "For a honeymooner you're being a little depressing, don't you think? What about acting as though you really like it here, Sandy?"

Melissande left him without a word and walked through all the rooms of the house. At the conclusion of her voyage of discovery he felt the vast silence of the place folding itself around her, forcing its strangeness deeper into her mind. She felt she must choke if this mood of depression and elation act as though she were glad to be here and away from the loom of Grover Street.

As she entered the room Paul looked quizzically at her, almost as if he were divining her new resolve.

"That's better," he said. "You now, you're a moody little creature. That's why I enjoy you so much. You make life a series of little adventures. One never knows what to expect next." He came to her and assisted her with unpacking.

Melissande smiled and thanked him.

"You knew it would pass off, didn't you, Paul?"

"Of course."

"It's just that I had a sudden feeling of gloom. You know how it is."

"I know."

Melissande stood still, watching him. Then she moved forward jerkily. "We'll be safe here, won't we, Paul?"

"Safe?"

"I mean, there's nothing to fear, is there?"

"How could there be? Unless it's loneliness you're scared of."

"I'm not scared of loneliness."

"That's good. Now, what about some dinner? I'm famished."

WHILE Melissande prepared a meal, Gardiner explored the exterior of his temporary home. The bay by night, with storm clouds browsing upon its surface, and with occasional fires lighting its edges, bore an aspect of almost fairyland wonderment, mystic and serene, and where the hills rose sharply on every side there were dark, unfathomable and mysterious shadows that stretched away to where distant ranges etched unevenly into the skyline. Gardiner was immensely pleased with the bay. The house itself nestled snugly within a niche carved in the hillside, if it were out of place there, and wanted to be somewhere else. From where Gardiner stood along the path the outlines of the house were completely lost in the evening shadows and only the square frames of light from the windows were visible. He was reminded of doll's house set in a wilderness of garden scrub.

The silence of Berow Waters was deafening. Nothing moved here, not even a rustle came down from the tall gums, for the possum and the native bear had long since deserted these places where a combination of fire and deep water provided the worst kind of death trap for bush creatures; and through the valleys that cut off from the bay no fox crept at night, for there was nothing here for the nocturnal marauder, and no blade of grass on the barren mountains for kangaroo or rabbit or bandicoot; nothing in the bay itself to make sound, save the dull, distant chug of a motor-boat or the alarmed splashing of a school of mullet suddenly disturbed by a straying shark or jewfish.

Gardiner drank the silence in thirsty gulps. After the noise and movement of the city, the wonderment of this place descended upon him with the freshness of a draught, soothing his hot temples and clearing the gathering storm clouds from his confused brain.

From the ruins of hills already he saw the mushroom growth of new hopes, new aspirations, a new life, fertilized by the decayed matter of the past and refreshed by crystal clear waters drawn from the new well of Now. In this new green pasture the melancholy of the past belonged to ancient centuries, along with rugged hills about and above him, and the long drawn-out sigh that sprang from the throat of that low-flying water-bird was merely the dying echo of a woman called Kate.

The night they slept on the side verandah with the breeze across their upturned faces and in the morning, before the sun rose, they were stirring with the impatience of their first day.

Willis came to them during breakfast and announced that he would be meeting the launch, mid-stream, and would Mr. Gardiner take him along in the rowboat? Gardiner said he would.

"When does the new man arrive?" he wanted to know.

Willis said that most likely the new caretaker would come down by the afternoon launch and it would be advisable to make some arrangements to meet him. Gardiner agreed to this, whereupon Willis began shifting his gear to the jetty.

"I can't understand why Mr. Taylor would want me to take a holiday," he said, as he and Gardiner slacked his bags in the stern of the small boat. "First place, I don't want one at all. Second place, he ain't ever done it before."

"So it was Mr. Taylor's idea, was it?" Paul said, thoughtfully. The other grinned wickedly.

Strange Passage

By William Lynch

Chapter 18

WHEN Gardiner returned to the house, he found Melissande stretched on a swinging canvas hammock idly reading a book. As he came near she held the book towards him.

"I found it on John's bookcase," she explained. "Did you know he'd written any books, Paul?"

"No. But I'm not astonished."

"It's called 'Obsessional Neurosis'. The first chapter's all about compulsive phenomena. Bright lad, isn't he?"

Gardiner took the book from her hands and began to study the chapter headings. Then, with a mystifying expression, he threw the book to the hammock and took Melissande in his arms.

"That stuff's for bug-merchants and star-gazers," he said. "Certainly it's not for honeymooners." He kissed her fervently. "For the first time in my life I'm really happy," he announced "and you're the sole cause of it, Sandy."

She felt his face rough against her cheek and she snuggled into the warmth of his bare chest.

"When you come to think of it," he went on, slowly, "it doesn't take much to make the average man happy. Yet so few manage to achieve happiness. He sat up. "Maybe they don't know the recipe."

"That puts you in a special class, I suppose," Melissande chided. "At least I knew what I wanted," he replied.

"What do you want, Paul?"

"You."

"You. And an easel and a few brushes and a pot of paint. Simple, isn't it? Yet it's taken me thirty-six years to get it."

Melissande stirred. "It's not every man who'd settle for such a few simple things. For instance, I can't imagine John Taylor being happy with just a few simple things."

"John's one of the world's workers. I'm not. He has to be up and doing—putting the world in order. Me, I'm content to accept the world just as I find it." Paul waved a hand across the bay. "John deserted all this to live in a slum. That's something I will never quite understand."

"Maybe that puts John in a special class, too," Melissande said.

Mention of Taylor brought a tiny crease to Gardiner's brow. A note of doubt was slowly being born in the back corridors of his mind and as yet he'd not been able to identify it.

"Let's not talk about John any more," he said, finally. "You know, Sandy, I'm hungry again."

"Why?"

"'Cos I was lookin' for a job. Mr. Taylor does things like that. Here, let me handle them oars. I'm an old hand at it."

They rowed back to the jetty in silence.

IN THE late afternoon of the same day John Taylor sat in his office at the recreation center, paring his nails and musing at the constitutional stupidities of mankind, and for the woman Melissande he reserved a sour and damning oath. He was acutely conscious of a more-than-professional feeling for Paul Gardiner's wife, and it irked him to meditate upon his unscientific and unorthodox approach to the new problem that had come up. Normally, he should have reported the affair of Katie Sale to the police and let it go at that. But he'd preferred, after due reflection, to execute a formula of his own design, with a very good chance of disaster for all concerned.

For Paul Gardiner he felt nothing but the detached, clinical interest that a scientist might exhibit in a hydrophobic dog. Gardiner was a dangerously complex individual, now a proven potential killer. Something had to be done about him, and quickly. But how to do it without involving Melissande in an unforgettable tragedy; that was the poser.

If his analysis was correct, Gardiner's new moral and aesthetic code would transform every ordinary activity, such as washing and dressing and talking, into highly complex rituals, and no affront to his super-ego would be spared its punishment.

Casting science aside he had an instinctive feeling that Melissande would be needing his help. His impulsive decision to confide in Danny Sale was probably timely. Yet that could only be a protective measure. There had to be a more positive line of action if Paul Gardiner were to be apprehended without involving Melissande too deeply.

BUDGET CUTS

This spring both Senator Taft and General Eisenhower declared their belief that sharp economies were possible in the nation's defense establishment. We shall now have an opportunity to test the wisdom of this viewpoint.

For Congress has approved military appropriations for the new fiscal year which are roughly $5 billion less than the $51.4 billion requested by President Truman. That is a pretty fair-sized cut in any year.

The men in the Pentagon naturally are displeased at this outcome. But their temper is not the measure by which we must go in judging the effect of this reduction in expenditures.

If the Pentagon adjusts to the slash without too much anguish and without serious harm to our defensive picture, then we will know that the cut was substantially justified and there is indeed room for severe economies in the military budget.

If, on the other hand, the $5 billion reduction necessitates a dangerous weakening of the American defenses in the ensuing months, if the so-called stretchout of our preparations becomes an actual thinning out, then we will understand that the budget trimming was a foolish move.

In the nature of military budgets, one can't easily tell where savings may be safely made and where they may not. So it is perhaps unfair to assume that if the cuts turn out badly the blame must fall on a "reckless" Congress.

What will be important to watch is this: If the damage done by the cut is heavy, the Pentagon unquestionably will request supplemental funds to make up the deficiency. The attitude of Congress on that request will be an accurate measure of the sense of responsibility the law-makers have for the nation's real security.

The public should keep a sharp eye out for possible deficiency appropriation requests for another reason. If they are made and granted, that will mean Congress was wrong. It will also mean that in the end Congress did not save the country $5 billion on defense, or perhaps anything at all.

You hear a lot about the old Army game, but you don't hear nearly enough about the old congressional game.

That game is to trumpet loudly budget savings made in the spring and then quietly restore the cuts later on through deficiency appropriations to which the public pays little attention.

It is a politician's way of taking credit for not-able savings without, in the end, actually producing those savings.

Since $5 billion is quite a lot of money, the new defense budget reduction provides a good test this year of congressional motives and good sense.

We all ought to know in the months ahead whether Congress was playing the old phony economy game, whether it was taking a grave risk with American security, or whether it really made a wise, shrewdly calculated reduction to ease our staggering burdens.

CONGRATULATIONS, JAYCEES

The community is again indebted to the progressive and civic-minded members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for providing an Independence Day program that will ever live in the memories of all who participated, either as performers or spectators.

The Jaycees may well feel proud over the success of their latest project for the entertainment of the people of Warren and the area. Considering the fact that they have at the same time been taking care of the important preliminaries for their next big venture, the sponsoring of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey's circus Friday of next week, the achievement must be considered really remarkable.

We join the community in expressing thanks and appreciation for a marvelous week-end.

COMING? NO. GOING

Harold Stassen, candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, has named a convention floor manager and two assistants to engineer his affairs at the Chicago conclave.

Since Stassen has some 25 delegates committed to him out of 1206—with 604 needed to nominate—his three new hands probably have taken on one of the shortest assignments on record.

They'll be in the thick of it for one ballot, and then they'll be able to start drawing unemployment insurance.

Here And There

One of the big jobs the Lewis Caterers have on schedule for the summer season will be the Zern Temple's Summer Ceremonial to be held on the 26th day of the 10th month Shanwal 1371 which means Saturday July 19, at Oil City. Marching units of the Temple as well as all Nobles and candidates will be included in the parade at 2:15. The "Zern Zern News" says of the plans: "Food for hungry Nobles and candidates, whose appetites will be large by that time, will be served at the Circus Lot from five to 7:30; piece de resistance is barbecued chicken in practically unlimited quantities." The evening program will see the Second Section at the Drake theatre at eight o'clock and at 8:15 p. m., the Zern Zern Temple band will give a public concert at the band-shell to be climaxed at 9:30 by a gigantic display of fireworks. Illustrious Potentate J. V. Lard Frampont, whose home is in Oil City, reports that he expects a large class of candidates to be entered before the deadline of Saturday, July 5.

Announcements have been sent out reminding of the 1952 reunion of "Old Time Ball Players of Western Pennsylvania" to be held at Punxsutawney Wednesday, July 16 "to keep alive the memories of our playing days". The invitation states: "It's reunion time again, and this year is going to be the biggest and best. Registration tables ready at ten a. m., under the shade trees of the Public Square, lots of seats and parking for old-timers is reserved on three sides and you can visit and talk in comfort in the shade. At 2:30 we parade, in cars, behind a band, through the town and to Hall ball park where the Jefferson County members will show the rest of the state members how to play ball. Bring suit and glove and play awhile—but tell us you're planning on playing. Paul Waner says he will pitch a few innings and finish on first so the locals can get a few hits, maybe Ray Caldwell, the Yanks star pitcher of yesterday may walk in for exercise and play or coach, and Bob Shawkey should show up this year as Jefferson is his home county. After the game we go down the hill 300 feet to the church that is preparing the banquet for us. As special speaker we are after Jim Thorpe, the famous Indian athlete, and Ernest Lanigan, the historian of the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., and he knows his ball players back forty years and more. Everyone is supposed to tell a story or something about an old game."

Blitz of Taft 'Delegates Club' Seen Sewing Up Nomination

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

CHICAGO—(NEA)—Taft-for-President headquarters now has enough acceptances of membership in a new and secret "Bob Taft Delegates Club" to claim that the Ohio Senator will be nominated for President on the first ballot. An upset could come only if a large number of these delegates go back on their pledges to support Taft.

Credit for the club idea belongs to Paul W. Walter, Cleveland lawyer. He has been Bob Taft's field manager since 1938. It is admittedly one of the smartest tricks of political strategy ever put over.

When announcement of the "Bob Taft Delegates Club" is made by Sen. Taft himself at the right moment, the members will be easily identified. White "pledge pins" about the size of a small saucer show a photo of smiling Bob Taft in a two-inch circle in the center. Around the photo in big black letters are the words "Bob Taft Delegates Club." There are also membership cards printed in red and blue ink on white pasteboard. There are no dues for the organization. But the cards should be valuable as political souvenirs, and maybe later on, to identify the holder as being for Bob before the first ballot.

Organization of this Bob Taft Delegates Club goes back only to the last week in June when Paul Walter sent telegrams to all Republican convention delegates, asking if they would like to join the club. The response was an avalanche.

Delegates who had been considered unpledged and even some who were in the Eisenhower camp sent in wires saying they'd be glad to join and offering Taft full support.

It is this response which has made Sen. Taft and his managers so cocky and so sure of victory in the last few days.

IN what is known as Taft's "control room" in Suites 900-A and 902-A of the Conrad-Hilton Hotel, the wires have been part indexed and part filed. Data about each delegate have been transferred to master cards. These are tabbed with red, blue and green plastic markers for quick sorting. The tabs reveal at a glance whether the delegates are pledged to Taft, pledged to Eisenhower or unpledged.

Taft's volunteer workers, many from the Ohio delegation, are being assigned to follow up on the unpledged delegates for further convincing.

On the wall of the control room, which also serves as Walter's tiny and overcrowded office, is his control board. It is hidden behind royal purple velvet curtain which operates on a pull-cord. But only the top Taft strategists get to see what's behind the curtain. When the curtain is closed it looks as though it covered the long, high picture windows.

On another wall of the control room is Walter's organization chart for this convention job. It looks like one of the fancy doodles of boxes and ruled-in lines that show how the Pentagon works.

IT is headed "Delegation Relations." It shows Congressman Reece and Mr. Walter in the top positions of command.

Under this are other boxes for "Delegate Receptions," under command of Myers Y. Cooper. There are lines for receptionists, pages and ushers. Everybody is to be taken care of—and good.

A box, "Classification Contacts" indicates another committee to have veterans meet veterans, farmers meet farmers, publishers meet publishers, lawyers meet lawyers and businessmen meet businessmen.

There is another division for handling "Distinguished Friends of Sen. Taft." Still others for "State Contacts With Delegates" and "Publicity for Delegates."

This passion for organization shows up in all details of Taft headquarters operation on the ninth floor of the Conrad-Hilton Hotel. There was similar efficiency around the Dewey headquarters in Philadelphia four years ago. But there is one noticeable difference. The Dewey machine was made up of New York State courthouse politicians and New York City ward heeler. The Taft workers are all clean-cut young kids.

erson is his home county. After the game we go down the hill 300 feet to the church that is preparing the banquet for us. As special speaker we are after Jim Thorpe, the famous Indian athlete, and Ernest Lanigan, the historian of the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., and he knows his ball players back forty years and more. Everyone is supposed to tell a story or something about an old game."

WHY SHOULD YOU BE FORCED TO RISK YOUR MONEY IN SOME OTHER PERSON'S BUSINESS?

WOULD YOU DO THESE THINGS VOLUNTARILY?

1. WOULD YOU LOAN YOUR MONEY IN BUSINESSES YOU NEVER HEARD OF?
2. WOULD YOU LOAN YOUR MONEY IN ENTERPRISES THAT COULDN'T OR WOULDN'T GET MONEY FROM ANY PRIVATE BANK?
3. WOULD YOU LOAN YOUR MONEY IN BUSINESSES WHERE YOU RECEIVED NONE OF THE PROFIT BUT WERE FORCED TO PAY THE LOSSES?

BUT YOU ARE FORCED TO DO THESE THINGS BY THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

IN THE PEACE-TIME YEAR 1949, VARIOUS GOVERNMENT CORPORATIONS WERE USING—

13 BILLION DOLLARS

OF YOUR MONEY FOR LOANS TO SPECIAL PRIVILEGED GROUPS!

SOME OF THESE LOANS WERE MADE BY—

RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORP.	$ 1,782,000,000
COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION	1,729,000,000
EXPORT-IMPORT BANK	2,187,000,000
RURAL ELECTRIFICATION ADM.	1,301,000,000
FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION	514,000,000
PUBLIC HOUSING ADMINISTRATION	285,000,000

THUS—

YOU'VE LOST YOUR LIBERTY TO CHOOSE WHETHER TO RISK YOUR EARNINGS IN ONE OF THESE BUSINESSES. YOUR PROPERTY HAS BEEN TAKEN AWAY BY TAXES FOR WHATEVER PURPOSES GOVERNMENT PLANNERS DECIDE.

IF OUR GOVERNMENT IS NOT TO INTERFERE WITH THE LIBERTY AND PROPERTY OF AMERICAN CITIZENS, THE PEOPLE MUST INSIST ON A MORAL PURPOSE FOR OUR GOVERNMENT!

EVERY INDIVIDUAL has certain natural rights — the right to LIFE, the right to LIBERTY, the right to earn and use PROPERTY as he pleases. We call these rights "natural" because they are God-given. Would God have created each individual with different abilities and preferences if these differences were not to be expressed freely? And isn't property an extension of the different talents and abilities with which individuals are born? Thus these natural rights are supremely important and individuals have the right to defend them from the interference of other individuals — even by using force if that is necessary.

So men create a common force — a government — to protect their individual God-given rights at all times. Therefore, the moral purpose of government is this:

"TO MAKE AND ENFORCE LAWS WHICH PROTECT EVERY INDIVIDUAL'S GOD-GIVEN LIFE, LIBERTY AND PROPERTY FROM THE INTERFERENCE OF ANY OTHER INDIVIDUAL OR GROUP — AND THESE LAWS MUST ALSO PROTECT THE PEOPLE FROM GOVERNMENT ITSELF."

Government must use force to protect the rights of its citizens effectively. So while government is a necessity, it is at the same time dangerous. The danger is that government may use its power to take away the rights of citizens, by depriving them of their liberty or by forcing them to do things with their property that they would not do voluntarily. When this happens the original moral purpose of government is perverted and government becomes immoral.

Jane Anderson and Paul H. Bohn Wed In Western Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle G. Knapp, East Fifth avenue extension, have just returned from Santa Monica, Calif., where Mrs. Knapp was matron of honor for the wedding of her sister, Jane Anderson, of San Francisco, to Paul H. Bohn, of Santa Monica.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. H. L. R. Anderson, Grove City, was employed for one and one-half years by the United Refining Company and is at present with the brokerage firm of Dean Witter & Company in their main office in San Francisco.

Mr. Bohn, son of Mrs. Frank Sullivan of Santa Monica, spent two and one-half years in the United States Army during World War II, with 14 months' service in Europe in the Third Army. He is a graduate of University of Southern California and is now in the Dental School of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in San Francisco.

The ceremony took place at 5:00 p. m. Sunday, June 22, in the Breantwood Presbyterian church. Dr. John David Donnan, pastor of First Presbyterian church of Santa Monica reading the double ring service. Wedding music was by Mrs. Doris Rankin, organist, and Lawrence Larsen, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her brother, Harlan L. R. Anderson of Grove City, the bride was gown in ivory satin with long train, a coronet of pearly orange blossoms holding her fingertip veil and a pearl necklace accenting the neckline of her gown. Her white prayer book was topped with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis attached to satin streamers.

Mrs. Knapp and Mrs. Harlan Anderson, the latter as bridesmaid, wore gowns of sky blue nylon net with tucked bodice, pink net flounce on the underskirt, and pink and blue net stole. Blue horse-hair hats had pale pink flowers at the back of the wide brims and their bouquets were of blue delphinium and pale pink carnations with pink satin streamers.

John H. Bohn of Southgate, was his brother's best man and ushers were Russell Fritch of Pasadena and Lowell Lundall of Palo Alto.

The bride's mother wore fern green with pale pink accessories and pink sylvium orchids; Mrs. Sullivan chose chartreuse with coffee accessories and brown orchids. A reception for 75 guests fol-

MR. AND MRS. A. L. VAN KEUREN

At 8:00 p. m. July 3 in the Methodist church at Irvine, Rev. C. C. Ross read a double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Evelyn Winnifred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Westfall, Tidoute RD 1, and Arthur Lee Van Keuren, son of Royal Van Keuren, Corry, RD 3.

The service was read in a setting of blue delphiniums and pink roses, with Joyce King at the piano for traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blue suit, with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Val Jean Shaw, bridesmaid and only attendant, had white accessories and white roses with a gold colored suit.

Frank Mitchell served Mr. Van Keuren as best man and ushers were Edway Westfall and Richard Van Keuren, brothers of the principals.

Mrs. Westfall chose a lavender lowed immediately in the church parlors. Following a honeymoon at the Casa de Manana at La Jolla, Calif., the couple will be at home to friends at 1126 Taylor street, San Francisco.

Daughter Should Be Free From Parental Tie Before Marriage

SHE is married and has a home of her own, but her parents still haven't turned her loose.

Her mother still advises her by mail and long-distance telephone over what to do about this or that. If she mentions that she and Jim have decided to buy a new sofa, that is enough to call forth advice and help from her parents.

Her mother will immediately sit down and write her a lot of advice about buying a sofa. She should take this and that into consideration, her mother will write.

And then the mother will get to worrying because the "children"—as she calls her daughter and son-in-law—probably won't be able to buy a really good sofa.

So Pop is talked into sending "the children" a check directing them to add this to what they were going to spend for a sofa and get something "worth having."

And so it goes. Whatever the young couple set out to do is taken out of their hands before they know quite what has happened.

FREE HER WHEN SHE GOES TO COLLEGE

AT every turn they get the two things a young couple can best get along without from their parents—advice and financial help.

When will this mother and father decide their daughter is a grown woman married to a grown man and therefore perfectly capable of getting along without the advice and help of her parents? Probably never.

They didn't free their daughter when they should have, when they sent her away to college to be educated.

Parents who don't seize upon this natural time to let a child start making his own decisions and his own mistakes never find a better time.

If they don't free him at the proper moment, they never find the right time to say: "Here is where we let go."

WRIGHTSVILLE SCHOOL REUNION ENJOYED

The 14th annual Wrightsville school reunion was held in Wrightsville with a small crowd in attendance. Following a delicious dinner, a program of songs and readings by former pupils, and a quiz on presidents by Mrs. Herbert Hauptin was given. Election of officers resulted in re-election of Victor Johnson as president, with Herbert Hauptin as vice president and Mrs. Helen Hotchkiss as secretary-treasurer.

An invitation to meet with the Herbert Hauptins, 806 West Pleasant street, Corry, was accepted by the group. Guests were present from Corry, Youngsville, Lottsville, Wrightsville and Jamestown, N. Y.

Larson Returns To His Local Practice As Child Specialist

Dr. John Larson has returned to Warren upon completion of two years' post graduate study at Children's Hospital, Pittsburgh, and will resume his practice here with office and residence at 3 East street. Dr. Larson will specialize in children's work.

A native of Warren, Dr. Larson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Larson, 2 Averill street, and is a 1935 graduate of Warren High school. He graduated from Penn State in 1939 and worked at the United Refinery in Warren for two years before entering Temple University Medical School, Philadelphia, where he graduated in 1944. Dr. Larson served his internship at Marine Hospital, Staten Island, and was on the staff of Hamot Hospital, Erie, for one year. He served in the medical department of the U. S. Army for two years. Dr. Larson established an office in Warren and took up the general practice of medicine for two and one-half years. At Children's Hospital, he had a teaching fellowship.

Mrs. Larson also is a native of Warren, the former Marjorie Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dell Nelson, 614 Prospect street. They have three children, John, Jr., aged eight, Fred, six, and Judy, three.

Dr. Larson will serve on the medical and pediatric staff at Warren General Hospital.

TRAVEL NEWS

According to the current construction bulletin of the Department of Highways for the period July 4 to July 18, no new detours are listed in this section. The work on the Jackson Run road is listed to continue until October 1 before removal of barriers and work of construction on a new bridge between Grand Valley and Entersprize which occasions a 4 1/2 mile detour, will be effective until September 15. Advertisements have also asked for bids on resurfacing of Route 967 between Sugar Grove and Lander. Construction work on North Main street in Youngsville is virtually completed.

FIRE CALLS

City firemen were called out twice over the week end, once during the height of the traffic following Friday's big parade when they made a run with the emergency truck to Canton street where a car owned by Donald Duckett was on fire. Firemen used a carbon tetrachloride extinguisher to douse a short circuited battery and estimated damage to the car at $20. On Saturday, at 4:43 a. m., all equipment rushed to the Solar Electric Company on Central avenue when the sprinkler system let go and sounded an alarm. A thorough investigation revealed no fire, and equipment returned to stations about a half hour later.

EVERETT S. BILLS

Everett S. Bills, well known resident of 12 Pickering street, Sheffield, died at 3:15 a. m. July 4 in the Cleveland Veterans' Hospital, following hospitalization of about eight weeks.

Born in Port Allegany on March 4, 1891, he had been a resident of Sheffield since 1936, was employed as an operator at the Penn Bottle Company and was a member of the Glass Bottle Mowers Association.

He enlisted as a private in Company B, 19th Infantry Regiment, at DuBois on May 14, 1917, and served until he was discharged in Texas on March 26, 1919. He was a member of the Michael and Nicholas Peroski Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and of the Frank N. Glendening Post, American Legion, both of Sheffield.

Mr. Bills was married at Little Valley, N. Y., on May 17, 1921, his wife, Jessie C. Bills, surviving with one son, Everett S. Bills, Jr., and one granddaughter, Rebecca Lynn Bills, both of Sheffield. Another son, Vincent, died in infancy. Also surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Raymond, of Clarion; Ernest, at Hazelhurst; Kenneth, in Puerto Rico; Herbert, Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. Hazel Pasumak, Bradford, and Mrs. Garnet Ross, Smithport.

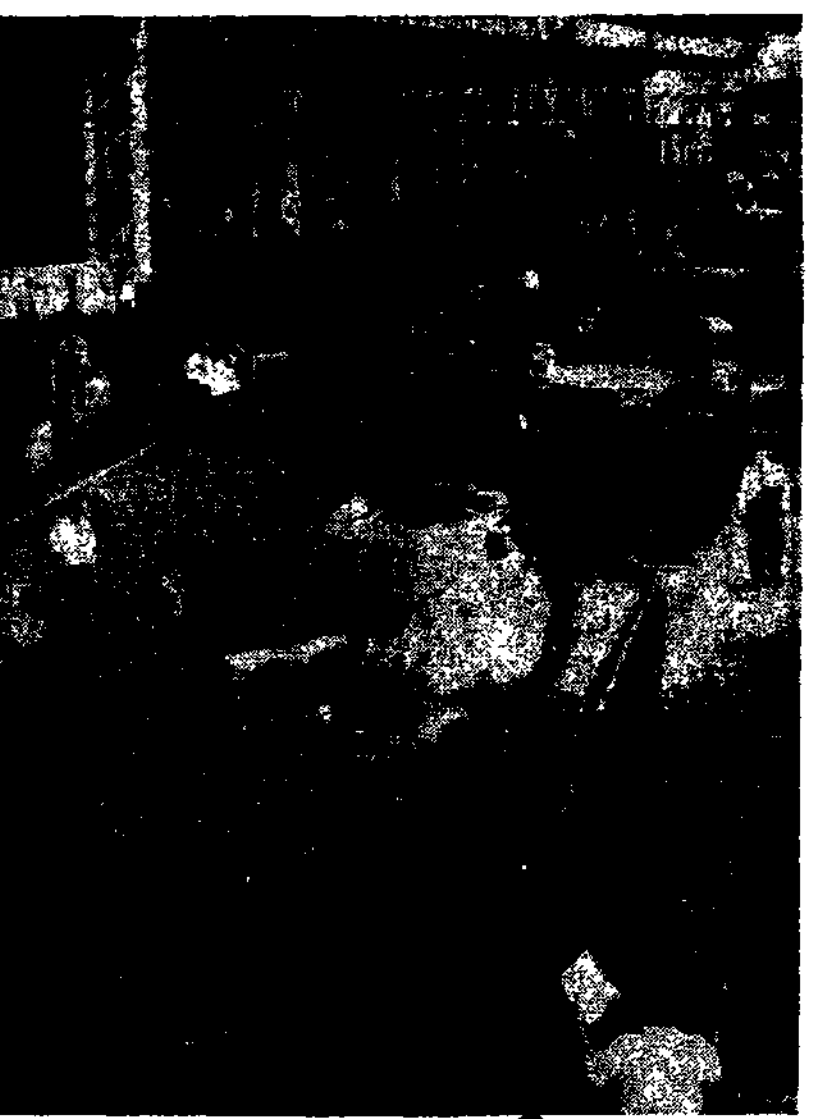

Private services in his memory will be held from the family home at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday, the Rev. Grant L. Mottern, Methodist minister, officiating and interment following in Mt. Jewett cemetery.

ARMY'S NEWEST TANKS BEGIN TO ROLL

For the first time, the Army has permitted photographs of its new Patton 48 medium tanks rolling from the Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant assembly line. Military experts say this new spectacular tank will whip any other tank in the world. This million square foot tank plant produced and delivered its first Patton 48 to Army Ordnance on April 11, 1952, less than a year from the date the first steel was raised.

ALL PUFFED UP—Jimmy Wingo, 5, of Atlanta, Ga., has a quiet smoke with his good friend Frank Wilson. Jimmy was given a cigar by his father, C. N. Wingo, at the age of two to cure him of picking up and smoking cigaret butts. No cure resulted, but the cigar business has a steadfast customer.

LLOYD HAMILTON

Services in memory of Lloyd Hamilton, 63, who died suddenly while working at the Charles Loomis farm near Sugar Grove late Saturday afternoon, will be held from the Schoonover Funeral Home there Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment will follow in the Cherry Hill cemetery. Mr. Hamilton has been a farmer and milk plant worker in and around Sugar Grove most of his life. He is survived by a son Paul in Pittsburgh, and a sister Mary Hamilton with whom he resided in Sugar Grove. The cause of death was given as a heart attack.

JOHN FRANCIS HANLEY

Funeral services in memory of John Francis Hanley, Bradford, were held Saturday morning at nine o'clock, with a requiem high mass at St. Clara's church in Clarendon, Father William Maloney officiating. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, Warren, with fellow-members of Company K, Pennsylvania National Guard, serving as bearers and in charge of military ritual.

Relatives attending from away were the young man's father, John Hanley, Bradford; Mr. and Mrs. William Rottstadt, Waco, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. William Manning, Lewis Run; Pvt. Leo M. Hanley, James Conally Air Force Base, Texas; Mrs. Francis J. MRS. MELVIN MORSE

Mrs. Marcia Morse, 82, of Tidoute, died at her home at 11:45 p. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Morse, a life-long resident of Tidoute and Limestone Township, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garber and the youngest of 14 children. She was the widow of the late Melvin Morse.

She is survived by four children, Mrs. Edith Shakleton, Erie; Mrs. Clarence Myers, Dintol, N. Y.; Floyd and Chester Morse, Tidoute; a brother, Calvin Garber, Paradox, Colo.; 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Friends may call at any time at the Sage Funeral Home in Tidoute where a funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. M. M. Stevenson of the Methodist church officiating. Burial will be in Limestone Cemetery.

MRS. JOSEPH DOUGLAS

Mrs. Hazel Lydia Douglas, 54, wife of Joseph H. Douglas of Marienville, died Saturday in the Kane Community hospital.

A daughter of the late Daniel and Winifred Faye Albaugh, she was born March 24, 1898, in Endeavor. She was a member of Marienville Presbyterian church and the Order of Eastern Star of Tionesta.

Surviving are her husband; two children, Mrs. R. D. Kitts of Erie, and Lee Douglas of Reno; brothers and sisters, Calvin and Curtis of Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Sarah Gage of Slaty Fork, W. Va.; Mrs. Evelyn Littlefield of Youngsville; and three grandchildren, Ronald Douglas, Perry Joe Douglas, Reno, and Douglas Kitts, Erie.

The body was taken to the Haslet Funeral Home, Tionesta, and Sunday was returned to the family home.

CHARLES W. MILLER

Services in memory of Charles W. Miller of Frewsburg, were held in Buffalo at two p. m. today at the Leasing Funeral Home. Mr. Miller died Friday in Our Lady of Victory Hospital in Buffalo, following an automobile accident near Eden, N. Y. He was widely known in this area, conducting a public accounting office in Youngsville on a part time basis.

Mr. Miller is survived by his wife, Mrs. Loretta Miller; a son, Charles H., of Jamestown; and a sister, Mrs. Louise Paufer, Buffalo.

According to Chief Constable C. E. Shook of Eden, Mr. Miller's car swerved to the left and struck head-on a truck operated by Gerald Egan, Buffalo.

SUDDEN STORM KILLS CHINESE FISHERMEN

Hong Kong (P)—About 200 Chinese died Saturday when a sudden squall overturned 25 fishing boats, Chinese press reports from Portuguese Macau said today. Only 10 survivors returned to the colony yesterday.

spec." Emphasizing that the family, including Mrs. McConnell and son, Jerry, all hate to leave Warren, he said he could not afford to turn down this opportunity for advancement. "It will be a big job at Council Bluffs and I hope I can handle it," he said. He will have full control in the new position.

In his letter of resignation, Mr. McConnell advised that he will support a report outlining all accomplishments in Warren as well as the problems which lie ahead.

The McConnells will leave for Council Bluffs right after August 1 in order that Mr. McConnell may be there for Council meeting, August 4. Son Jerry, a sophomore last year in Warren High School, will enroll this autumn at Randolph-Macon Military Academy, Front Royal, Va.

Yesterday afternoon, police were called to North Irvine street when a home-owner there reported finding a 22 calibre bullet in the window sill between the storm window and inside window of an upstairs bedroom. The projectile, apparently spent when it hit, penetrated the outside glass and dropped before entering the room. Police said it came from the hill top nearby and warned that persons should be extremely careful about firing toward town while roaming the hills with a rifle.

Four League, Three Outside Games on Merchant Schedule

The Warren Merchants baseball club has a busy card ahead of them the next two weeks, with four Sunset League games and three independent games slated so far.

Keith Vesling Fans Dozen as Wildcats Defeat Jamestown
Turning in another of his top-notch performances, Keith Vesling gave up only three hits and fanned 12 men as the Ludlow Wildcats trimmed Jamestown 11 to 1 at Wildcat Park yesterday afternoon. The win split the weekend for the Cats, who lost on Friday to Dunkirk, 7 to 3.

The Wildcats played headsup ball in the field and nabbed Peterson for 10 hits in the first six innings before he was relieved by Swanson. Erratic fielding on the part of Jamestown also assisted the Cats in putting 11 runs across in three innings.

Esplan rapped out the only extra base hit in Sunday's contest, a triple.

On Friday Ludlow led 3 to 2 going into the top of the ninth, when Dunkirk turned on the fireworks for a five run winning rally. The trouble came when Dean Whitaker lost his control and loaded the bases after one out in the ninth. Vesling took over, but a combination of Ludlow errors and two hits allowed five tallies before the young moundman fanned the last two men.

Next Sunday the Cats play host to the Jamestown Bombers at 3 o'clock.

Warren Merchants Lose 3 to 2 Classic After 11 Innings Under Lights at Venus on Saturday

Playing one of their finest games of the season before a crowd of 600 fans under the lights at Venus, Pa., Saturday night, the Warren Merchants dropped a 3 to 2 11-inning contest to the Venus nine.

The locals collaborated for both of their runs in the first frame, when Dick Reed led off with a walk, Bill Massa sacrificed George Lucia Singled to score Reed, Tom Juliano took a free one, and Dave Bevevino went to first on a fielders choice putting Lucia across.

All-Star Game in Philadelphia Will Draw All Attention

By RALPH RODEN
AP Sports Writer
It looks like the pitchers are in for a tough time in the major league's 10th all-star game at Philadelphia tomorrow.

Five of the 12 pitchers on the dream squads saw action yesterday in the final tuneup for the mid-summer classic and all were beaten. The sluggers, on the other hand, came through with flying colors.

The American League suffered the biggest blow when Bobby Shantz, the scale-model lefthander of the Philadelphia Athletics, was forced to retire after four innings because of a muscle pain across his chest in the first game of a doubleheader against the pace-setting New York Yankees.

Shantz, the major's top winner with 14, was counted on to start against the National but it appears now that Cleveland's Bob Lemon may draw the assignment.

The Yanks clipped Shantz for four runs during his stay and went on to defeat the A's, 5-2. All-stars Gil McDougall and Mickey Mantle led the Yank drive with home runs.

Philadelphia bounced back to win the second game, 7-6, scoring the winning run with two out in the ninth inning when Ferris Fain doubled home his all-star teammate Eddie Joost from first base.

How to Be Safe in the Water

Thursday to Saturday and Nobody Knew They Were There.

Some of those pale looking ladies who thought the long weekend was the solution for getting that long awaited sun tan looked like lobsters when they reported for work this morning.

ATTENTION you tennis enthusiasts... The Erie Tennis Club invites you to participate in the Great Lakes Tennis Championships to be played at Glenwood Park, Erie, on Monday, August 4, to Saturday, August 9.

Once you get Kane laughing, you have Cameron's horse laugh, and soon the whole group is in stitches.

Through the holiday's adventures we learned that there is an educated toe residing on Madison avenue, somewhere in the 400 block.

This from the typewriter of A. Anderson (writ by hand): "We would say off hand, that this weekend many men learned that women are meant to be loved, not to be understood. Let's thank Oscar Wilde for that one."

Thrills and Spills Make Full Holiday For Dicky-Ben Fans

When it came to excitement on July 4th, the Dicky-Ben Speedway had an abundance with six races filled with thrills and spills.

The feature attraction, 30-lap race, again went to Emory Mahan in his Buick "Eight-Ball" with Fred Ritter, second; Tony Caprino, third; Martin, fourth; Gerry Littlefield, fifth; Fanale, sixth; and Geockler, seventh.

Fast and exciting all the way, Caprino in "616" staged a pretty comeback, when, in two laps, he moved from last place to first. However, Mahan took over in the seventh and stayed there the remainder of the distance.

The track, in the best condition it has been all season, the first heat was won by Stoltz, of South Dayton, N. Y., with Geockler of Akeley, second, and an Albion lad third.

Tony Caprino, Jamestown, N. Y., in his fast "616" super car, received the checked flag first in the second race; Littlefield, second, and Mahan, third. The order reversed in the third heat, Mahan grabbing the lead in the first lap to keep it the distance, Caprino then second, and Littlefield in third.

In the fourth race Miller, of Bradford, was leading the pack until he rolled into the railroad ditch at the northeast turn, allowing Ritter to come in first, Fanale, second and Martin, third.

Martin, in his "775" cooped the Australian Pursuit event with only Ritter left to finish second in "31".

Dare-Devil driver, Slim Servis, made one of the most sensational leaps of his career when he drove his crash car over the new 40 foot long, nine foot high, ramp into a car 45 feet away, walking away without a scratch.

TV 'MAGIC CARPET' TO CARRY MILLIONS TO CONVENTIONS

Viewers to Get Seats, Tour Chicago Area by Camera

Some seventy million Americans will travel to Chicago during July aboard the magic carpet of television.

By a mere flick of a switch, millions will be on their way to tour the Lincoln Center, the site of the next President of the United States, and the political conventions of the Democrats and Republicans.

Four networks will transmit the proceedings of the residents of hundreds of American cities into the homes of millions of prominent national Amphetheaters, while the Democrats and Republicans will assemble.

Historic Audience
The camera will give them a bird's-eye view of the entire gathering, then whisk them close enough to a single delegate to see the sweat on his forehead, the spot on the soup stains, if any, on his necktie.

The vast spectacle of American democracy at work will be viewed by more people than any other event in the history of the world.

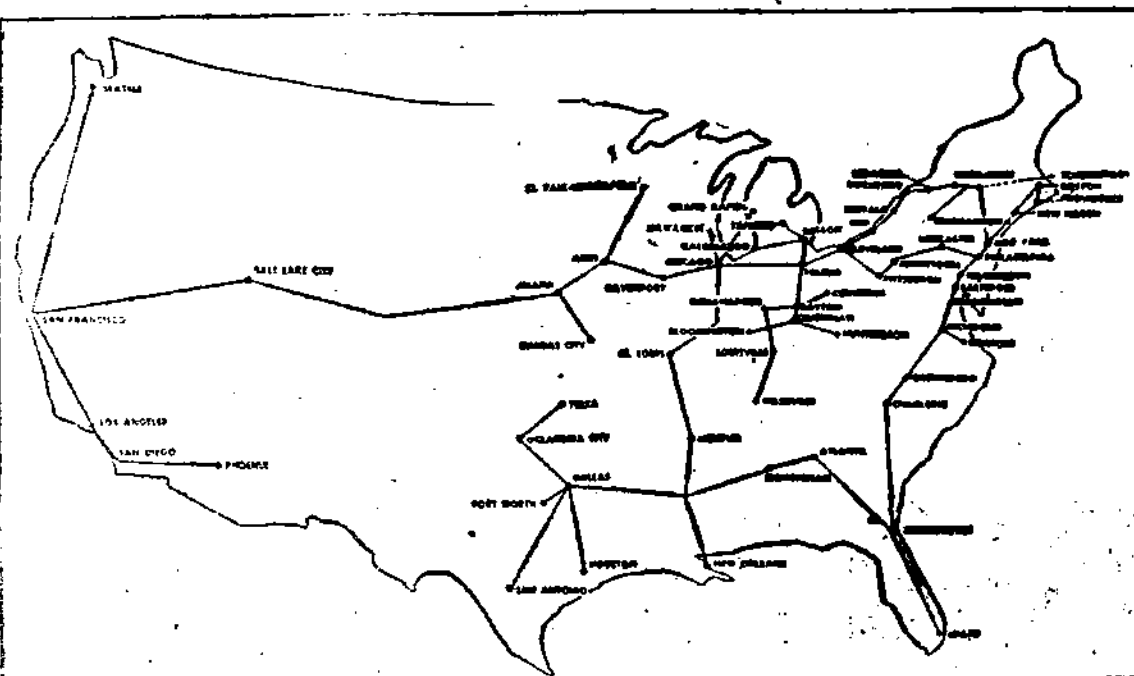

As Sig Mickelson, CBS television executive in command at Chicago, says:
"The effects of television on this convention may shape the destiny of the nation."

A battery of seven cameras will record history as it unfolds within the walls of the Lincoln Amphitheater, located in the heart of the famous Stockyards district.

Doors Covered
Two will cover the main entrances to the building, catch the first sight of the delegates as they come and go.

Free will be set up on special platforms in the arena, at locations from which they can peer into every inch of the convention hall.

TV viewers also will view the convention side-shows, such as press conferences and parades, and the famous Chicago municipal election.

TRANSCONTINENTAL—The convention television network will span the nation, as the above map indicates. The CBS network will cross the country, with outlets on the west coast at Seattle and San Diego and on the east coast at Boston and Miami. The 1948 conventions of Philadelphia, the first ever telecast to the public, were viewed by only six cities in the east. Estimates of the '52 convention TV audience go as high as 70 million.

Here is the operation, as it will unfold:

Don Hewitt, veteran CBS newsman, presides at the network master control room in the Amphitheater.

He is in constant communication with four other directors stationed at key news points: one covering the actual convention program, one directing the mobile units, one assigned to the CBS studios in the convention hall, and the fourth located in the special CBS studios at the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Each field director monitors the cameras at his news spot and selects the picture to be fed to the CBS master control room.

Final Choice
Hewitt sits before a panel of four screens and selects the one

TV CHIEF—Sig Mickelson, CBS executive, will be in charge of the network operation of the conventions. Only 39, he typifies the youth of top personnel in the television industry. A native of Minnesota, Mickelson is a former newspaperman and college instructor.

Most of the leading candidates also have set up campaign offices at the Hilton, so that press conferences and interviews all will be within range of the CBS cameras.

In charge of this vast network operation is Sig Mickelson, Director of News and Public Affairs for CBS Television. Only 39, Mickelson is a former teacher and newspaperman who served as supervisor of the TV corps that covered the Japanese Peace Treaty conference in San Francisco.

At Chicago he will direct the activities of a staff of 300 men and women that will include everyone from page boys to such famous broadcasters as Edward R. Murrow, Lowell Thomas, Robert Trout, Eric Sevareid and David Schoenbrun.

Railroad Caravan
Mickelson's "caravan" will comprise eleven special cars on the Twentieth Century Limited that will transport broadcasters, cameramen, engineers, maintenance men, secretaries and office employees from New York to Chicago.

The network also is assembling political specialists from various parts of the country to analyze convention developments from their local point of view.

CBS gear, including cameras, microphones, dollies, booms, cable and monitors, is being shipped to Chicago in three large trucks.

Although the Philadelphia conventions of 1948 were telecast to the public, for the first time, the job done there amounted only to a test run for the coming operations in Chicago.

Cameras Improved
Cameras have been greatly improved since then. With the notable addition of the Zoomar lens, which can "zoom in" from long range on a subject for an intimate closeup.

The walkie-talkie, which was used at Philadelphia, has been perfected so that CBS reporters may roam the convention floor, unencumbered by cable.

On the arrival of a Presidential aspirant, a party spokesman or a newsworthy delegate, the walkie-talkie reporter can call for an available camera and put him immediately on the air.

The Chicago conventions will be the first ever covered by radio and television under commercial sponsorship.

Westinghouse, sponsor of CBS radio-TV coverage, also has arranged to sponsor over the same network a thirteen-week series of debates between leaders of the two political parties, as well as the returns on election night.

Stable Kitchen
For its commercial announcements from the Amphitheater, Westinghouse has installed a complete modern kitchen and living room in the CBS studios there.

Betty Furness will preside over both, demonstrating her appliances amid comfortable, air-conditioned surroundings that will provide a quiet contrast with the hectic scenes on the floor.

Whoever the party choices will be, it's certain that they will get a more intimate introduction to the American electorate than was ever given a White House candidate in the history of the country.

As for the choice for vice-president, it appears that the anonymity that cloaked the fictitious Mr. Throttlebottom is gone forever.

CBS ACE—Edward R. Murrow, one of the CBS newsmen, is shown here boarding an airplane for one of the many flights that have taken him round the world to the scene of headline events he has covered. Murrow will be a key man in CBS coverage of the conventions.

Cub Pack 32 Has Enjoyable Trek To Game at Jamestown

Clarendon—Cub Pack 32 enjoyed a trek to Jamestown Monday evening to attend the Falcons' baseball game, with five cars to carry the Cubs, Cubmaster and several parents. The youngsters were treated to hot dogs and report a wonderful time. It is estimated about 1,000 boys were present as guests of the management.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jewell, Mrs. Doris Vicini, and Mrs. Florence Dorr motored to Pittsfield Saturday to attend the very lovely wedding of Mrs. Jewell's niece, Margaret Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Franklin, to James Avery, in the Evangelical United Brethren church.

Mr. and Mrs. Myles Rader, from New Jersey, have been spending some time visiting old friends in this vicinity.

Weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith were Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald, son, Jack, and daughter, Jill, Richmond, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Messersmith, Sharon.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Thomas, Lakehurst, N. J., visited at the homes of Mrs. Maude Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jewell over the weekend.

Local Girl Scouts are enjoying a week at Camp Birdsall Edey, with Mrs. R. O. McBride and Mrs. Eddie Moore in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Moloy and grandson, Dick Haggerty, motored to Salamanca Sunday, taking to her home Mrs. Norman Abbott, who had been spending some time visiting Mrs. Moloy. Afterward, they also called on friends in Belmont and Wellsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kizer, Jeannette, are spending several days visiting at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Amanda Riggie.

CARNIVAL OF TOWELS

COME! Buy These Towels You Need Now and Save!

Pastel Colored Turkish Towels

Bath 97¢ Hand 49¢ Wash Cloth 29¢

Heavy, absorbent Turkish Towels with a new luxurious finish. Soft pastel shades and brilliant colors. One of the richest looking and feeling towels.

Multi-Colored Beach Towels

2.98 - 4.89

Multi-colored stripes give these towels a luxurious appearance. In two sizes, buy one for the little ones and larger ones for yourself.

Checked Turkish Towels

39¢

A light weight, quick-to-dry Turkish Towel in pastel checks. Bath sizes. In green, blue, pink, or gold. Be sure to have lots of these handy towels for all the family.

Finger-Tip Turkish Towels

4 for $1

How these will go at this little price. These towels are gradually taking the place of the linen hand towel... so easy to wash as they need no ironing as linen does. You will want these by the dozen in all colors.

Kensington Towels and Mats

Bath 1.59 Wash Cloth . 3 for $1
Hand 89¢ Bath Mat 2.50
Shower Mat 1.98

These are those luxurious deep MARTEX Towels you like so well. Such deep pile . . . and the colors are so beautiful in the pastel or decorator tones.

Callaway Towel with Border.

Bath 1.69 Hand 79¢
Wash Cloth 35¢

The textured border on these Towels give them that extra expensive look . . . and yet they are so reasonably priced. In wine, green, gold, blue, rose, or flamingo.

When kids get mumps, it's not news. But when cat gets mumps, too — that's news. Ask Sammy, pet of Alan and Barbara Atwood, Windsor, Vt.

Man bites dog every day!

Said "No" to Hollywood. Alabama beauty, Yolande Betbeze, Miss America of 1951, turned down a chance to be a "new Rita Hayworth".

Car Rises Over Flood. Floods often rise over cars, but this householder in Winnipeg turned the tables. Each day water rose, he hoisted his car higher.

What man has bitten what dog today? That's what everybody picks up his newspaper — every single day — to find out.

And no wonder. No two human beings are alike.

For you, the stopper of the day may be strange bedfellows in politics... for your wife, a new inside-out pocketbook.

But there's always something—that reverse twist, that ordinary situation doing a somersault.

So you read a newspaper every day . . . and so does everybody else, including your customers and prospects.

They, too, read the paper at the time they choose, for as long as they choose — for the advertising as well as for news or for fun.

When your selling is backed by newspaper advertising, your story has a chance to reach everybody. Your audience isn't just comedy fans, or mystery fans, or sports fans . . . but everybody.

Only the newspaper is first with the most news... first with the most people... first with the most advertisers!

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

IN CONVENTION ASSEMBLED: 1932

By JAY HEAVILIN and RALPH LANE

In 1932 the national economy stood on the verge of ruin. So, too, did the Democrats meeting in Chicago, did the GOP. The depression under Hoover spelled victory for the Dems. The convention favorite was Franklin D. Roosevelt. The brown derby of Al Smith, nominated by Franklin Delano Roosevelt in 1928, was also in the ring.

FDR had been an energetic and progressive governor of New York, had won re-election by 750,000 votes.

Happy Warrior Smith, however, had two strikes against him. One was his past defeat; the other: his religion.

From the outset, FDR commanded a far lead. When publisher William R. Hearst was persuaded to throw Texas' and California's votes to FDR's column, Rooseveltites celebrated with a parade, which Smith delegates sat out, charging FDR had betrayed his friend.

In a characteristically dramatic gesture, FDR flew to Chicago to make his acceptance speech, first candidate ever to do so. Four months later, Hoover and the third party formed for Smith were buried under an avalanche of FDR votes.

BARNES

Barnes—Hazel Houghton, Bristol, Va., arrived Sunday afternoon for a two weeks' visit with her cousin, Ariel Houghton.

Since our last letter, Mr. and Mrs. Serrill Grubbs have received mail from their son, Bruce Melquist, from Korea.

Emma Christian, Sheffield, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Brandt, Mrs. B. J. Hoyer and Mrs. H. M. Wolfe of Barnes, motored to Limestone Monday and spent the day visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Christian.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Laychak and children, Coudersport, called on old neighbors in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rudolph and Mrs. Ed Rudolph were called to Tionesta the last of the week by the death of their aunt and sister-in-law, Emma Rudolph. Funeral services in her memory were held from the Hazel Funeral Home in Tionesta Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Plubell and children, Marvin, Lowell and Carolyn, of California, who are vacationing in the east, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Plubell of Ludlow, were callers at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brandt and Mr. and Mrs. James McMichael Saturday.
